

STHI Conference in Oberwiesenthal May 12-14: 3rd Circular

Dear Colleagues & Friends,

This is the 3rd circular for our STHI conference in Oberwiesenthal.

The 1st and 2nd circulars can still be found on the project WWW page:

<http://www.tu-chemnitz.de/phil/english/ling/EAPconference2011.php>

We have drafted a provisional programme, which you can download from the web page above.

There you can also download a pdf of the latest book in our REAL Series:

Academic Writing in Europe: Empirical Perspectives

which will serve as a basis for the teacher discussion Forum on Thursday evening.

The students will have their own Forum without teachers parallel to the teachers Forum on the differences between studying English in the CR and in Germany/Chemnitz.

Both groups will have a report in the plenary on Saturday morning.

There will also be a (post) conference publication: "English for Academic Purposes: Practical and Theoretical Approaches" based on the presentations given at the conference. The bibliographical data will also be made available in the web of science, so we need your contributions by October 1st to start a double blind peer-review process before publication.

Transport

As before, all accepted conference participants, students and teachers, can attend free of charge (we can cover transport accommodation & food, but not drinks).

We will organise bus transport from Chemnitz and Bozi Dar to the hotel according to your arrival dates.

As usual, the finances and logistics will be done by STHI.

If you get stranded, please use this Czech telephone to inform the transport section: the Czech mobile number is 00420776768225 und the German one is 0170-9962944.

Communication

The academic questions will be answered by us, in particular our conference secretary:

STHI.english@phil.tu-chemnitz.de

We look forward to seeing you all (again) very soon.

Best wishes,

Prof. Dr. Josef Schmied
