The English language is nobody’s special property. It is the property of the imagination: it is the property of the language itself.

Derek Walcott
What characterizes the Master degree program English and American Studies?

The consecutive Master degree program in English Studies is based on Linguistics, English Literatures, British and American Cultural/Social Studies, and TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages). In our MA program, the focus can be flexibly combined. It covers the research fields of global developments of the English language and its communication in different cultural contexts, in Anglophone literature and cultural theories, and social science theories and methods. The main objectives are to promote and strengthen communicative and intercultural competence. Our MA program is taught exclusively in English and is characterized by a high percentage of students from all over the world.

“As far as I’m concerned, there’s no better post-grad course than English Studies at TU Chemnitz. There’s a sense of being close to home yet also part of the world. The diverse range of subjects on offer is both challenging and fun and the opportunities to specialize create a degree program tailored to me and that’s what I think really sets this program apart.”

Erik Schreiber, Alumnus
Degree Structure

The degree program consists of four core modules and four advanced modules as well as the Master Thesis. A voluntary internship (compulsory in the TESOL advanced module) or a further period of study abroad (ERASMUS) opens multifaceted career opportunities.

Core Modules (1st-4th semester)
• Translation
• Creating Language Products
• Professional Skills
• Cultural Encounters

Advanced Modules (1st-3rd semester)
Two of the following modules must be selected:
• Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages
• English as a Global Language
• English Literatures
• Comparing Societies, Politics and Cultures

Module Master Thesis (3rd/4th semester)

Career Opportunities

English Studies equips students with the written and oral communication skills necessary for a professional career. It will also provide students with an in-depth knowledge of societies and cultures that are globally interconnected by means of English language and literatures. Our program prepares students for a variety of careers in the following areas:

In International Communications and Knowledge Transfer:
• Interpreter/Translator
• Teacher (private sector), Lecturer/Researcher (university level, with requirement of a doctoral degree)
• In-house Editor, Literary Agent, Librarian

In Media and Public Relations:
• Press Officer, Public Relations Advisor
• Web Content Editor, Advertising Copywriter
• Project Manager
• Journalist, Media Agent
General Information
Admission requirements: in general vocationally-qualifying university bachelor’s degree in English Studies or equivalent degree program with regard to content, English language proficiency at Level B2 and German language proficiency at level A2 according to the CEFR
Standard period of study: 4 semesters
Degree: Master of Arts (M.A.)
Start of the degree program: winter semester
Language of tuition: English

Study program:
www.tu-chemnitz.de/studiengaenge/

Online application:
www.tu-chemnitz.de/studienbewerbung

Student Service Point
Straße der Nationen 62, room 043 (A10.043)
+49 371 531-33333
studentensekretariat@tu-chemnitz.de

Central Course Guidance Service
Straße der Nationen 62, room 046 (A10.046)
+49 371 531-55555
studienberatung@tu-chemnitz.de

Academic Course Guidance
For an overview of all academic counsellors including contact details please access:
www.tu-chemnitz.de/studienberater

Postal address
Technische Universität Chemnitz
Studentenservice
09107 Chemnitz

For reasons of readability, the masculine gender was mostly used. However, the terms, titles and functions equally refer to all genders.