Chemnitz

The City of Modernity

Chemnitz has about 250.000 inhabitants and lies in the south-west of the German free state Saxony. Besides Leipzig and Dresden it is the third largest city in this state.

The city has a 800 year old history and in time of industrialization it was one of the most important cities in Germany. During the socialist period of the German Democratic Republic (1949-1990), Chemnitz was named Karl-Marx-Stadt, in remembrance of socialist theoretician Karl Marx. This is the reason why Chemnitz is still host to the Karl-Marx-Monument – the largest portrait bust in the world.

Nowadays Chemnitz is still one of the most important cities for industrial companies in central Germany. International companies like Volkswagen, Continental, IBM, Niles Simmons have now settled down here.

Chemnitz is also famous for its architecture. It's the place with the most amount of Art Nouveau buildings and also the industrial architecture of the late 19th century makes Chemnitz a unique city with great historical value.

In 2006 Chemnitz was awarded the DIFA-AWARD for the excellent development of the Chemnitz city centre. The mix of housings, offices as well as culture and leisure buildings in the heart of the city makes it liveable and loveable!

Chemnitz has a lot to offer. If you're here in the summer...

- ✓ ...go climbing in the climbing forest with over 1km of climbing trails!
- ✓ ...go bathing at one of our lakes in the sommer!
- ✓ ...go boating on the „Schlossteich“ - a municipally lake!
- ✓ ...spend a day in our zoo or do the popular night city tour with our night watchman.

If you decide to come in the winter...

- ✓ ...don't miss our atmospheric Christmas Market in the winter months – it's supposed to be the most beautiful one in whole Saxony!
- ✓ ...visit the Chemnitz Theatre and watch an opera or one of many other plays!
- ✓ ...go shopping in one of our seven big shopping malls
- ✓ ...dive into the culture in one of our more then ten museums!

Travelling from Chemnitz

Experience the diversity of culture and nature

Chemnitz is located in eastern Germany, right in the middle of Saxony. At the same time, it is just a stone's throw from the Czech Republic. From this location, you have the chance to set up diverse travel itineraries and bring variety into your weekends or holidays. The following itineraries are just some of many thinkable recommendations.

If you have just one day...

- ✓ ...go hiking (summer) or skiing (winter) in the Ore Mountains: Chemnitz is also called the "Gate to the Ore Mountains". Escape into the nature in-between just half an hour! Distance: 30 km
- ✓ ...see Dresden with the most historic and breath taking old town in Germany. Distance: 80 km
- ✓ ...take the train to Leipzig: Many shopping centres can be found in the largest city of Saxony. Distance: 90 km
- ✓ ...visit our Czech neighbours: Karlovy Vary is one of the most impressive cities in the Czech Republic and just a bit more than an hour away! Distance: 85 km

If you want to spend a whole weekend...

- ✓ ...go sightseeing in Berlin: Our capital city might be the most international city of Germany and brings you closer to our history. With a train from Chemnitz it's just 2,5 hours to Berlin. Distance: 260 km
- ✓ ...see Prague: The old and traditional Czech capital in the heart of Europe invites you for a weekend. Busses from Chemnitz run on a daily basis! Distance: 160 km
- ✓ ...get to know the beauty of nature in Saxon Switzerland. For instance you can travel to the town of Königstein and spend a weekend with climbing and hiking. Distance: 110 km

And by the way— did you know that exchange students don't have to pay for trains in whole Saxony! And of course you can ride busses for free in Chemnitz.
